MONUMENT TO HORSES IS UNVEILED

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—A bronze memorial tablet to commemorate the horses and mules which died during the world war was erected in the state, war and navy department building here today by the American Red Star Animal Relief. The inscription read: "This tablet commemorates services and sufferings of the 213,155 horses and mules employed by the American Expeditionary Forces overseas during the Great World War which terminated November 11, 1918, and which resulted in the death of 68,682 of those animals. "What they suffered is beyond words to describe. A fitting tribute to their important services has been given by the Commander-in-Chief of the American Expeditionary Forces, General John J. Pershing, who has written 'The army horses and mules proved of inestimable value in prosecuting the war to a successful conclusion. They were found in all the theaters of preparation and operation, doing their silent but faithful work without the faculty of hoping for any reward or compensation.' "During 1916 the Secretary of War, of the United States, wrote to the American Humane Association, that the Government would be pleased to have its cooperation in assisting to care for the animals in the United States Army. The Association very promptly created a Department known as the American Red Star Animal Relief, to do this work. The Red Star is closely affiliated with similar European organizations, having the same name, with headquarters in Switzerland. The United States Secretary of War suggested that the Red Star might function for animals in much the same way that the Red Cross had done for human beings.

WOUNDED GREEK SOLDIERS MURDERED BY TURK BANDS

WITH THE GREEK ARMY IN THE FIELD, SYRI-HISSAR, ANATOLIA.—(By Associated Press.)—Roving groups of mounted bandits known as Chetas, are terrorizing the inhabitants of the Turkish villages, and murdering soldiers of the Greek army. One band of these desperadoes attacked a Greek motor ambulance returning from the front and killed the wounded, numbering four. Similar attacks on Greek supply trucks have been taking place for weeks. The Greek army has lost a score of telegraph linemen and many chauffeurs with two weeks. These frequent assaults are giving the army authorities much concern as they haven't sufficient troops to leave in the rear to cope with these highwaymen. These "bad men of the East," as they are called, are continually cut-

ROADS WILL CUT WAGES DESPITE STRIKE THREAT

CHICAGO.—(By Associated Press.)—Leaders of the railroad brotherhoods assembled here today to consider the challenge of the railway executives in proposing a further wage reduction of approximately ten per cent in the face of strike vote just authorized by the railway men because of the 12 per cent reduction of last July. Instead of the strike as planned for October 30, an immediate walkout was indicated here today among leaders of the railway unions.

"What else is there left to do? Since the men have already voted for a walkout, I don't see how the roads can have the nerve to suggest another cut," said W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Thirty day notices of the contemplated wage deduction, which is technically a return to the wage prevailing prior to the increase of July, 1920, is expected to be announced today or Monday by the railroad executives. Reports were current today that the railroads would announce the wage cut effective in thirty days without reference to mediation by the labor board.

OHIO WOMAN CUTS THROAT OF NEIGHBOR

AKRON.—(By Associated Press.)—Mrs. Ida Bradford, 49, is in county jail and Mrs. Lulu Johnson is suffering from a knife wound across her throat today as a result of an attack made last night on Mrs. Johnson as she was on her way home. Jealousy, police say, was the motive. Mrs. Johnson, a divorcee and mother of four children ranging from seven to 13 years, is said to have been friendly with William M. Bradford, Akron real estate dealer, and husband of the woman under arrest. Mrs. Bradford, armed with a new razor, is said to have waited near Mrs. Johnson's home for her return. Attack occurred shortly after Mrs. Johnson stepped from a street car. The razor blade narrowly missed the jugular vein, and physicians say the woman will recover.

the wage reduction explained that the benefit of the proposed cut shall, with the concurrence of the interstate commerce commission, be passed on to the public in the reduction of existing rates.

AFFECTS 2,000,000 MEN. Samuel Felton, of the Chicago Great Western, said the proposed reduction would effect a saving of approximately $300,000,000 annually and that approximately two million men would be affected.

Immediately after the conference with the brotherhood chiefs, when the executives wage decision was read to the employees' leaders, the executives left for their homes, indicating their decision was final. The brotherhood leaders, and many of the general chairmen of brotherhoods, were still in conference, following tabulation of the strike vote two days ago, and were called for the men's representatives to assemble again today for a final decision.

Ninety-seven per cent of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Shop Laborers Union have voted to strike. J. C. Smock, vice president, announced today. Smock said he would announce tomorrow night whether the strike will be carried out. The vote was taken independently of the big four brotherhoods, federated shop crafts and switchmen's union, which already have announced strike votes.

COUNCIL AND BOND FIRM IN CLASH

Council staged a red hot verbal fight with A. M. Welsh, representative of Stacy & Brown, Toledo brokers, to whom the city's municipal light bonds were disposed of several weeks ago, when the latter addressed the local body Friday night and demanded further delay in the sale of the notes. The bond issue, involving $135,000, the property holders portion of the 1923, has materially delayed a stipulation of the new system. Council is ready to take whatever action necessary to effect an immediate sale of the notes, it was declared. The Toledo firm guaranteed purchase of the notes after their approval by its Cleveland attorneys. The firm has repeatedly found technicalities to retard disposing of the notes, council claims.

The matter was brought to a head Friday night when Councilman John demanded Stacy & Brown show their hand. Welsh took the floor and declared his firm was to fight the issue to a finish. That council was bound by contract to dispose of the Stacy & Brown.

That started the ball rolling before the city dads adjourned. Toledo firm was given the floor for accepting the notes as per contract by 7 p. m. Monday felt all right to their position. Welsh then informed the bonds and transcripts had been forwarded to Shaffer & Whinn Cincinnati attorneys and accepted or rejected, upon advice, Wednesday of this week. Welsh was given the floor for a second proposal.

A second proposal, made by Green, was that the firm be paid for the purchase of the notes interest par value and accrued interest. Financial committees took the matter under advisement. Council was firm in its position. There was no further action taken. The light bonds, which were to be sold for $100,000,000, were not sold. The firm had lost 10 relatives at the hands of these brigades.

HORNER DENIES HE WILL RESIGN

Report Refuted by Assistant Adjutant General.

INSPECTORS TO FILE REPORT

Rise Of Colonel Horner Is Meteoric.

Report of the inspectors as to their finding in the affairs of Troop E, Lima cavalry unit, may not be made for some days, Colonel John Blingham stated prior to leaving Lima Friday night.

Checking up on the effects of the troop was concluded Friday. The balance shows that the portion of the shortage accredited to Captain Kenneth Kerr is much less than previously announced.

Both inspectors and Colonel Harry B. Horner, assistant adjutant general left for Columbus Friday. It is doubtful if they return here. Any further proceedings in the matter will probably be held at Columbus.

HORNER'S DENIAL
In this connection, it was positively denied Saturday that Colonel Horner will resign in an announcement made from Columbus. Colonel Horner denied that he has resigned or that he will do so.

A former military officer of high rank in Lima stated that under the circumstances it would be impossible for Horner to resign until the finding of the inspectors is made public. Custom in the army dictates that when an officer's accounts are short, he is allowed to pay out.

Horner receives full pay and allowances as Lieutenant-Colonel, in return for his service as assistant adjutant general. While in Lima he is credited with stating to friends that he had not drawn full pay for three months.

The military career of Colonel Horner reads like a romance. As a buck private at the age of 22, he accompanied Troop B to the Mexican border in 1916. On his return north, he enlisted in the Headquarters Troop and went to Camp Sheridan, being promoted to sergeant.

Horner is a wonderful horseman and his proficiency won him a berth in the officers' training school at Leon Springs, Texas. He graduated and was commissioned a Second Lieutenant, rejoining the 37th Division at Camp Lee, Virginia.

He was held in the United States as an instructor and wound up as a first lieutenant.

ORGANIZED TROOP E

He organized Troop E in 1919 and came its commanding officer. In 1921, his fine horseman drew the attention of Governor Davis and obtained him a berth in the executive staff.

Through a fortunate chain of circumstances, Horner, a youthful officer, became an assistant adjutant general. His appointment is said to have aroused some antagonism among older officers in the guard.

It was learned Saturday that recently an armed guard has been stationed night and day in the Troop stables. Since the guard has been on duty the thefts have stopped.

Military authorities were seeking to learn more Saturday of the theft of 30 bushels of oats from the troop stables during the Allen case. The oats are said to have been sold to race horse men.

Arms and equipment called in for the inspection are to be released to members of the troop.

Shortly after Charles Daxer stated Saturday his office had not been called on for assistance in tracing stolen military property.

Charles Clay, colored, W. Fourth-st is seeking the whereabouts of a tall colored preacher, who defrauded him of $30, Tuesday, he told the police.

The alleged preacher told Clay that his (Clay's) son had been cut up with a razor during a brawl at Springfield. The boy, he stated, was under cover and had sent him to Clay to get $30.

If he could get the money, everything would be all right. He could be taken care of and get away, the stranger said.

RICH HAUL MADE IN BOOSE RAID

Mrs. Dickman and F. A. Mangan Enter Not Guilty Pleas.

Nine quarts of champagne, a beverage that has become almost extinct in these piping days of prohibition was seized by police Friday night when a boarding house operated by Mrs. C. A. Dickman, 216 N. Central-ave was raided.

The wine is believed to be a portion of that stolen when a cache filled before July 1, 1919, was broken into at the Ohio Steel foundry. Police state that the wine is claimed as the property of Joseph Kaufman.

Rare wines and liquors were stolen from a vault at the Ohio Steel foundry. The value of the beverages at the time was stated as $2,000.

The boarding house at 216 N. Central has been under suspicion for some time. Evidence that a quantity of intoxicants was concealed there was obtained by Patrolman Dick Watkins.

Friday night a squad of officers consisting of Captain M. F. Dawson, plainclothesmen Ross Landfair and Rolla Glover, Patrolmen Houtz and Watkins entered the place.

The champagne was found in the room of F. A. Mangan, a lodger. A quantity of corn whiskey was also confiscated. Mangan and Mrs. Dickman were placed under arrest.

Both entered pleas of not guilty before Judge Jackson in criminal court Saturday. They were placed under $1,000 bond each.

Mangan is a welder and it is said to have been employed at the steel plant about the time the vault was robbed.

When Brown found Layton had accompanied his wife, he grabbed a shot gun and ordered him off the premises, according to witnesses.

The Allen-co jail is no place for a man of activity.

Frank Broshe, employee of the Solar Refinery, found that out during his incarceration there since Monday.

Broshe told Judge Becker he would go to jail rather than pay alimony to his wife, Mrs. Daisy Broshe, an invalid. Judge Becker gave him the opportunity of a "try-out" in jail.

Broshe changed his mind late Friday. He told the court he was ready to pay including costs in the action. Broshe will be forced to part with nearly $100, to keep within the law.

PLAN PARADE FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Program and Finance Bodies Named 11 Event..

Every whistle and bell in Lima will sound at 11 a. m. November 11, Armistice Day if the tentative program discussed by the committee at the banquet of Commerce, with J. M. Heall, chairman, Friday night, is carried out.

Whistles and bell of the city were loaned on the original Armistice day and a general celebration took place. It is believed appropriate that the celebration of the third anniversary of the end of hostilities should begin in this way.

Various other ideas were offered. Rev. Wm. A. Tobin, suggested that programs in the schools would be appropriate. Max Altshul, believes the American Legion should conduct the celebration.

Captain Kenneth Kerr of Troop E, suggested that stores, shops and offices close for the day. A resolution asking Mayor Burkhardt to declare a holiday was adopted unanimously.

The program suggested for a celebration is as follows:

Whistles and bells at 11 a. m. to start the day.

Program in the schools Memorial services for the fallen heroes, to be in the form of a public meeting. Committee to decorate the graves.

A parade, suggested for the morning. Sports and games in the afternoon and big dance in the evening. It was suggested that an open air dance might be best, if the weather is favorable. A foot ball game in the afternoon between veterans of the army and navy was suggested by J. Kennard Johnson.

Further action will be taken Tuesday, October 18. Committees appointed by the chair are:

Program committee, Rev. Wm. A. Tobin, chairman; Louis Bradshaw, Colonel John Harley, J. L. Rose, and Harry Walters.

Finance committee, Frank Thomas, chairman; Max Altshul, George Bayly.

PLAN TO SELL BONDS TO AID JOBLESS OF CITY IS FOUND TO BE IMPOSSIBLE

Heads of several civic organizations called into conference with Mayor F. A. Burkhardt late Friday afternoon, in an endeavor to solve the problem of providing immediate relief for the city's jobless, was of no avail, representatives of the various organizations failing to come to an understanding on the best possible method of getting thru the present crisis.

One plan suggested was the issuance of short term notes to the amount of $5,000, but no plan can be found whereby the city is authorized to issue such bonds, according to a statement made by City Solicitor Garting, Saturday.

An emergency appropriation of $5,000 would tide the situation over until January 1, it was maintained, but the middle of how the city can raise that amount remains unsolved.

It is believed the matter will be taken up at the regular meeting of council Monday night.

COURT DIALOGUE COSTS JAMES EMMETT $15 AND—

James Emmett, 45, painter and plasterer, was before Judge Jackson in criminal court Saturday. The charge was intoxication.

"I had a cold," Emmett told "His-nor" and bought some whiskey in a pop bottle. It made me sick and they arrested me."

"Did it take it all to cure you?" the judge asked.

"Yes," said the prisoner. "$15 and costs," said the court.

Allen-co improved roads project depends largely on quick disposal of the five-year bonds and business vital import to the immediate sale of the $2,000,000 bond issue is expected to transpire at the meeting Monday, it was announced Saturday.

DISEASE OF VENEREAL ORIGIN CLAIM 300,000 VICTIMS ANNUALLY IN THE UNITED STATES

Every One of These Cases Could Easily Have Been Prevented.

The dreadful effects of venereal disease in causing locomotor ataxia, paralysis, softening of the brain, degeneration of the heart, blood vessels, and kidneys, and many other life-shortening and crippling disorders are known to every intelligent man.

They also know that scores of thousands of women and innocent little children are doomed to suffer agonizing disease or even death, because of transmitted infections.

But what few men yet know is, that in no single instance is there the slightest excuse for the development of any form of venereal disorder. ALL ARE PREVENTABLE.

On all you need to do is to use PROCALINE—the Ideal Prophylactic—after exposure. PROCALINE ABSOLUTELY DESTROYS the germs of every venereal disease before infection can take place.

This has been conclusively proved in thousands of cases, where PROCALINE has been used for years without a known failure.

The Pennsylvania State Board of Health has tested PROCALINE and has given it their endorsement. The State of New Jersey and other states, in fact, the United States Government, Health Boards, Medical Societies, and informed people generally, are making a determined stand against the spread of these diseases. PROCALINE is easy to use, harmless and efficient when used early enough after exposure to infection and according to instructions.

Go to your druggist today and get a tube of PROCALINE—price 30c for the two-application tube and 50c for the one-application tube, and be on the safe side. Hawthorne Drug Specialty Co., Inc., 88-90 Reade Street, New York, N. Y.

WONDERFUL WOMAN

WHO is the most wonderful woman in the world? All happily married husbands will answer, "My wife." Children will answer "My mother!"

The world is full of wonderful women.

It has just lost one of the most remarkable of them — Mrs. Cornelia Adair, 85-year-old pioneer of the southwest. She died in London, where she was a society queen during vacations from the 500,000 acres of ranch and 100,000 head of cattle which she owned and managed personally in Donley county, Texas.

MRS. ADAIR, native of New York, married John Adair a half century ago and went with him to Colorado.

With a score of cowboys they went horseback from Pueblo, Colo., into Texas, driving a herd of cattle thru a country menaced by Indians and wild animals, where water holes were few. Most of the cattle died of thirst.

Starting in a shanty, the Adairs became fabulously rich. After her husband's death, Mrs. Adair ran the ranch and its huge cattle industry herself. At 70 years, she still handled all the deals, was an expert with the lasso, rode with her cowboys and made her "J. A." ranch famous as the best in Texas. At all big stock shows, her cattle won first prizes.

Despite this activity, Mrs. Adair found time—rather, made time—to improve herself mentally and spiritually. She was a devotee of music and a connoisseur of art. She and the nobility of England visited back and forth.

AMERICA was built up by pioneer women of the Cornelia Adair type, tho usually their fields for activity were small.

There have been as many great women as great men, in all ages. Usually—as in the case of Mrs. Elias Howe, who perfected the sewing machine invention for her husband—the women have been robbed of the credit.

It is a woman's nature to remain in the background.

But whenever a man achieves greatness, it is a 1000-to-1 shot that his greatness was inherited from his mother. Also, that he probably would have remained a mediocrity, had he not been fired with ambition and inspiration and pushed forward—by his wife or sweetheart.

In all generations, the greatest actors have been women, just as Sarah Bernhardt eclipses all male performers of her time.

In private life, woman plays the silent part. But she is there, staging the show, setting the scenery, making the costumes, directing the plot—and, most important of all, providing what theatrical producers call atmosphere.

Farewell, Cornelia Adair! You were one of the few wonderful women who get credit for their important functions in life.

LAUNDRY WORK

MEN used to like starched collars and "biled shirts." Now clothes are more comfortable and the laundrymen's problem is how to use so little starch that customers will not kick, says the president of the Laundry Owners' National Association.

This is the starchless age. Comfort is what folks want. Inventors, to get rich, turn your attention to devices that will make life as soft as falling into a custard pie.

BIG BIZ SEEMS TO HAVE TURNED THE CORNER

The rush has been too great on us this week to make good in every respect. Any one familiar with the work must know that with the two full-page public sale bills, one or two small ones and the full-page Community Fair posters and a thousand full-page bills for Walter Gray's big reduction sale, in addition to several smaller jobs, is about all a shop in which the work is nearly all done by two people, could turn out in one week, in addition to handling the newspaper.

Then the editor felt that he was compelled to spend some time at the county fair, which he did Thursday afternoon.

THE UNDERGROUND RIVER

BY DR. WM. E. BARTON
I JOURNEYED in the Land of the Big Apple, where they raise fruit as delicious as that which Eve tempted Adam. For Eve knew her business, and the Apple is some fruit. And I saw the trees laden with fruit, and the ground beneath them growing green with alfalfa.
And I asked, Whence cometh the water, with which these trees are nourished? For the clouds drop not their rain, neither is there melting snow upon the distant hills.
And they showed me a deep well that went down an hundred cubits, and at the bottom it was an engine that worked with Electric Power, and rested not day nor night.
And the engine lifted the water in a Mighty Stream, so strong that when it reached the surface they had to hurl it against a wall, and divide it into smaller streams; lest it tear up the very ground. And the water flowed into many Orchards, and watered the trees.

day afternoon. We know the paper has suffered this week in consequence, but hope our readers will forgive.

There are also many good mentions of subscribers who have renewed lately that have to lay over until next week—St. James (Mo.) Journal.

A BIT COMPLICATED

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Osgood have returned from an auto trip with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Henth, after visiting their daughter, Mrs. C. I. Trenham of Rome and other places of interest—Windsor (N. Y.) Stand ard.

And the trees brought forth fruit in their season. And there are no years when the crop falleth for lack of water. For there is a Mighty River that floweth under the ground, and its flow is perpetual. And everything doth grow, whithersoever the river cometh.
And when I saw these things, I said, Behold there be many men whose lives are sterile, and barren of good works, who might grow and blossom and bear fruit.
For there floweth under the feet of every man streams of Power, and there are in the life of man hidden Reservoirs whereof they might drink, and water the ground abundantly.
For there is no need that any life should be barren, or that any man should fall to lift toward heaven the evidences of a life that is useful and good and shineth upon the evil and the good. The sun is in the sky, and there are springs of water in the earth, and no man's life should be unfruitful.

MAJORITY RULES

A PULLMAN porter let out a howl as Jan Albert, circus giant nine feet five inches tall, entered the train. Jan, in a Pullman berth, has to sleep curled up like a frog.

This is a difficult world for giants. Everything is made to accommodate the normal size. If your physical measurements do not conform to average sizes, life is uncomfortable.

That's true, also, of ideas. Your idea may be right, but you have to conform with average thought to achieve success. That is why radicals seldom get anywhere. They are not willing to compromise, let alone conform.

The giant won't get train berths 10 feet long until the majority of people grow to giants. Under-sized ideas and methods are clung to tenaciously—even after they are obsolete.

UNBALANCED

ON July 15, 1921, says the Department of Agriculture, prices of the 52 leading articles bought by farmers averaged 159 per cent higher than in July, 1913.

On the same date, however, farmers were getting, for their crops and meat animals, only six per cent more than July, 1913.

You do not have to go any further to learn why farmers are not buying in normal quantities. Until the farmers' incomes are more in balance with prices they are asked to pay, there is not apt to be any real business revival. You cannot buy $259 worth of goods with only $106 in your pocket. Neither can the farmer.

CAGED

AT Ayrshire, Indiana, a mine generator blows up. A flywheel weighing four tons is scattered as if hit by a giant Babe Ruth. One piece, 1000 pounds, hits the roof of a two-story residence a mile and a quarter away and goes thru to the cellar.

It takes instances like this to remind us of the enormous forces that have been caged by civilized man. Yet these forces are pur alongside those caged by nature. Enough power is stored in a square inch of atoms to destroy the earth. Man seeks a means of releasing this atomic force. Maybe it's better that he fails. Too much of a temptation for militarists.

GLANCES

YOU don't have to chase an auto all over the pasture.

WINTER hats are not trimmed as neatly as the buyers.

IF all our wishes were granted, who would build the autos?

THE only records some people break are phonograph records.

WHEN baby swallows a nickel, call the landlord. He will get it.

THE man who has just moved has a fairly good idea of war ruins.

THE bonus father's boss will give him for Christmas is almost gone.

MOST dangerous railroad crossing is double crossing the public.

SPEAKING of slate, some coal belongs in the cellar, some on the roof.

IF congressmen were paid according to work done they would owe us something.

THIS foreign paper money would be worth more if they printed a comic strip on one side.

CITIES have more than 50 per cent of the population. That's what is wrong with the country.

IN England the average age of brides is 27.9 and grooms 20.03. No wonder there is a man shortage.

Babe Ruth has much more interest in baseball than we ever supposed. After being forced to retire from the world series he sat in the grandstand and watched the games.

Voliva says he is going to New York to prevent it from going to the devil. Voliva may interest the New Yorkers for a minute or two, but we don't for a minute believe he can be booked for as long an engagement as the devil.

PLEASE REMIT

It's fun to live on credit. Till the bills come in, But you learn, in time, to dread it.

When the bills come in; For you know just what remorse is As the "Please remits" begin And you pay for perished horses When the bills come in.

It is fun to "be a devil" Till the bills come in, But you learn the cost of revel When the bills come in. And when health and strength are waning As the wages of your sin, Well, it's not so entertaining When the bills come in.

Tho it may be long years after That the bills come in, They won't bring you any laughter When the bills come in. You may think that you can cheat them, But that game can never win; Sure as fate you'll have to meet them When the bills come in.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"At the age of thirteen my daughter was having trouble every month. She had had many doctors but her back and her bowels were not getting any better. She was so weak and nervous that she could not do her work. I had heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I bought a bottle. She took it faithfully and in a few days she was feeling better. She is now regular and has no pain. We recommend the Vegetable Compound and give you permission to publish this letter." Mrs. KATH EUGENE, 4084 N. Fairhill St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Standing all day, or sitting in cramped positions and often with wet feet, young girls contract dangerous conditions, and before they are hardly aware of it the develop headaches, backache, irregularities, nervousness and burning pains, all of which are symptoms of woman's ills. If every mother who has a daughter suffering from such symptoms would profit by the experience of Mrs. Eicher and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial, she may expect the same happy result.

If You Hold a Tire Against an Emery Wheel

—you will find out a lot about the tread. If it is too soft it will crumble. If it is too hard it will grind away very rapidly. If it is a Dayton tread—black, tough, alive—it will stand a surprising amount of grinding.

Dayton Tires

The famous Dayton Tread is a brilliant black-on-a wet day it glistens like polished ebony. Thousands of miles over all kinds of roads leave its surface smooth—smooth and untorn.

And the tread is just one part. Let us tell you the whole story of Dayton Tires.

East Turns To Grid In Big Style

NEW YORK.—Football had full sway today. With the world's series off their minds, sport lovers in large numbers were attracted to many eastern college gridirons where important contests were scheduled.

One of the outstanding games was that between Princeton and the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. Both teams boasted of veteran stars and followers of the game looked for some fast football.

INTERSECTIONAL GAME.

Of the intersectional battles those between Harvard and Georgia University at Cambridge and Dartmouth and Tennessee at Hanover, N. H., led in interest. Army also appears in an intersectional game with Wabash at West Point.

In Central New York two games drew their share of attention, one at Ithaca, between Cornell and Western Reserve and the other at Syracuse between Brown and Syracuse.

WILLIAMS MEETS YALE.

Williams College meets Yale at New Haven and in New York Columbia plays New York University and Fordham battles with Villanova.

Among the games in Pennsylvania were those between Penn and Swarthmore at Philadelphia, Penn State and Lehigh at State College and Pittsburgh against Cincinnati at Pittsburgh.

A large number of well developed teams representing smaller institutions also were out today to make gridiron reputations for themselves.

Important Grid Games Are Being Played Saturday

CHICAGO.—Games which were expected to have more than the usual bearing on the western conference football championship were scheduled today, chief among them being the contest at Iowa City, Iowa between Iowa and Illinois.

Other conference contests found Minnesota playing Ohio State, 1920 champions, at Columbus and Wisconsin facing Northwestern at Evanston. Michigan and Purdue went outside the Big Ten to take on the Michigan Aggies and Notre Dame, respectively, while Indiana and Chicago were idle.

ILLINOIS AT IOWA.

Iowa went into today's game with Illinois with a somewhat crippled lineup, but the game was expected to show whether the Hawkeyes' 10-7 victory over Notre Dame last week was a fluke or whether Coach Howard Jones really has a championship eleven this year.

The game also was expected to decide Illinois' chances in the conference race and to determine just how much the loss of numerous members of last year's eleven will be felt by the Illini.

WISCONSIN VS. NORTHWESTERN.

Wisconsin was expected to overwhelm Northwestern, the latter team already having been defeated twice, but the Minnesota-Ohio State contest was looked upon as another "trial horse" for each eleven. Minnesota has shown signs of strength while Ohio State seems to have little of its 1920 power.

Purdue ordinarily would not be looked on as keen opposition for Notre Dame, but the latter's defeat by Iowa last week lent interest to today's contest. Michigan expected good opposition from the Michigan Aggies.

Buckeye Teams To Clash With Strong Elevens

COLUMBUS.—While Ohio State battles Minnesota at Columbus in its first Big Ten game of the season, three important Ohio elevens today faced hard football games out of the state. In addition, two unusually important Ohio conference games were on the schedule.

Western Reserve traveled to Ithaca to meet Cornell; Ohio University played West Virginia at Morgantown and Cincinnati met Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh. None of these contests will have titular significance.

Altho Ohio State's first conference game with the Gophers, attracted initial attention because of the Buckeyes' defeat by Oberlin last Saturday, two of the Ohio conference games were expected to have an important effect upon the Ohio conference championship race.

These were the games between Ohio Wesleyan and Case at Cleveland and between Oberlin and Mount Union at Alliance. Hard battles were looked for in both contests. Ohio Wesleyan and Oberlin entered the games the favorites. Other Ohio football games today were:

Miami vs. Ohio Northern at Ada; St. Xavier vs. Centre at Cincinnati; Starkenburg vs. Wittenberg at Springfield; Heidelberg vs. Akron at Akron; Hiram vs. St. Ignace at Cleveland.

THREE CENTRAL HI STARS UNABLE TO PLAY

CRIPPLED TEAM IS TAKEN TO MARION; VAN WERT HERE

CENTRAL HI journeyed to Marion Saturday morning with a crippled football team for one of their hardest games of the season with Harding HI.

Paul Mitchell, captain of the squad and regular halfback, is suffering from a bad hip and probably will not be able to play before the big South-Central game Thanksgiving.

Harold Drew, tackle, has been declared ineligible to participate in athletics, and Francis Blosser, another tackle, has an injured shoulder and was unable to accompany the team to Marion.

The Van Wert Pigskin crew was in Lima early Saturday and shortly after the noon hour were out on South's field for a light signal practice before the opening of their game with South at 2:00.

Coach Young has put his men thru stiff workouts the past week, endeavoring to get them lined up and two consecutive defeats after his team had made a brilliant start.

The Central squad and a score of rooters left Lima on the 10:20 Erie train for Marion.

Ohio State Is Not Likely To Beat Gophers

COLUMBUS.—Odds favored the Gophers in today's football battle here between Minnesota and Ohio State. Ohio State entered the fray with the handicap of having met defeat last week at the hands of Oberlin, a minor eleven.

In addition, Minnesota's team had an advantage in weight. Today's game was the first ever played between Minnesota, honorable in big ten football traditions, and the Buckeyes, the baby members of the western conference.

IS IMPORTANT GAME.

Today's game here was one of the most important on the country's football schedule this week, ranking in importance with the Princeton-Navy game in the east and the Illinois-Iowa and the Wisconsin-Northwestern games in the west.

Games for the game were opened shortly after noon and approximately twenty thousand spectators were on hand in the stands when the game got under way at 2 o'clock. Following was the probable lineup at the start:

Minnesota	Ohio State
Blumer	LE	Myers (C)
Teberg (C)	LT	Huffman
Olson	LG	Pidley
Ans	RG	Young
Tierney	RT	Trott
Johnson	RE	Spier
Wallace	QB	Slyker
Brown	QB	Workman
Martineau	LH	Stuart
Bailey	RH	Cott
Glstead	FB	Taylor

Officials—Madigson, Michigan; Snyder, Harvard, umpire; St. John, Notre Dame, field judge; Elliott, Illinois, Wesleyan, head linesman.

Judge Landis Favors A Seven Game World Series To A Nine

NEW YORK.—President John Heydler of the National League differs with Judge K. M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, on the advisability of returning to a seven game world series, which was the rule prior to 1919.

Judge Landis said at the end of the recent series that he would recommend the change at the joint session of the major leagues next winter.

"As a member of the advisory council, I don't care to take issue with Commissioner Landis," Mr. Heydler said. "Yet I cannot help recalling clearly the unsatisfactory nature of a seven game series, and that it was chiefly, almost entirely, in response to public sentiment in the matter that we were constrained nearly three years ago to extend the series to nine."

"It was for the sake of the game itself that the action was taken, it having become evident that the all-around strength and class of a team sometimes failed to be brought out and tell its story in a seven game series."

"Instances have arisen in which one remarkable pitcher was able to singlehanded to decide the issue when the series called for the best four out of seven games."

'Series' Re-Start.

BALTIMORE, Md.—After a day of rest the "little world series" will get under way again this afternoon with Baltimore playing host to Louisville. The series has been a close one from the start with the clubs breaking even out in Kentucky and Baltimore winning the opening game here on Thursday.

A tomato plant on a farm near Windsor, Ont., has produced 75 large tomatoes and grown to nearly 12 feet.

Very few members of the Big Nabab tribe in the Hebrides are under six feet tall.

Prayin' Colonels Meet Ohio Squad In Queen City

CINCINNATI.—Coming to Cincinnati for its second appearance in the history of the school, the Centre College eleven, headed by "Bo" McMillan, All-American quarterback, arrived in this city this morning for its game with the fast, but light-heavy eleven, which will be played at Redland field this afternoon.

Coached and drilled to the minute, the Saints are expected to give their southern opponents somewhat of a surprise. Coach Joe Meyer had his men hard at work thruout the week, working them on trick plays and every other branch of the game, and after yesterday's final workout, announced himself as well satisfied with the condition and ability of his men.

The Danville team came here in 1910 to hook up with the University of Cincinnati, and emerged victorious over the local eleven by a count of 14 to 0.

16 FIGHTS, 16 KAYOES - RECORD OF TOMMY GIBBONS

(BY BOY GROVE)

IT'S the bad news, it is, for any battler when his manager, with extended chest, comes strutting up and smacks the young contender on the spine and smilingly says: "Well, kid, I gotta matched for the 25th, with Tommy Gibbons."

For it's always the same monotonous story in those fights.

The light dime, there is a dull ringing in the ears; it is hard to swallow. Before his face an arm is slowly rising, falling fading — then all is dark. Old Man Time wets the end of his pencil and records another K. O. under the name of Thom as Gibbons.

Who can stay with Gibbons? Possible two men — Jack Dempsey and Carpenter. We doubt if Brennan or Mike could do it. Willie Meehan, the fat boy who stayed with Dempsey, missed the crowd after the first round of his fight with Gibbons.

NOT PARTICULAR.

Gibbons will fight anybody. Eddie Kane, his strategic ring master, never picks a fighter for the K. O. boy. Whoever comes along, says Eddie — Tommy hangs em on the ropes.

Another wise manager around the village, Jimmy Brunson, Bob Martin's boss, says, he would rather put Bob against Dempsey than Gibb, and that is saying a mouth: I.

Not so long ago Tom was a middleweight. But he grew and was tutored by his brother, Mike, one of the greatst middleweights that ever resined a foot.

Since February 19 last, Tommy has fought 16 battles. And he wound up every one of them with a K. O. Seven have been one-round sleepers, four have been two-rounders, three three-rounders, and one four-round. The only guy to stick any length of time was Porkey Flynn; he stayed for 11 rounds last April.

There is no trick 'o how Gibbons does it. He is quick, light and scientific. Where Dempsey uses strength to break thru a guard, Gibbons uses speed.

ALL BUSINESS.

"He is business all the way thru, the ring and out. He is out to win, and that's his success at kayoing."

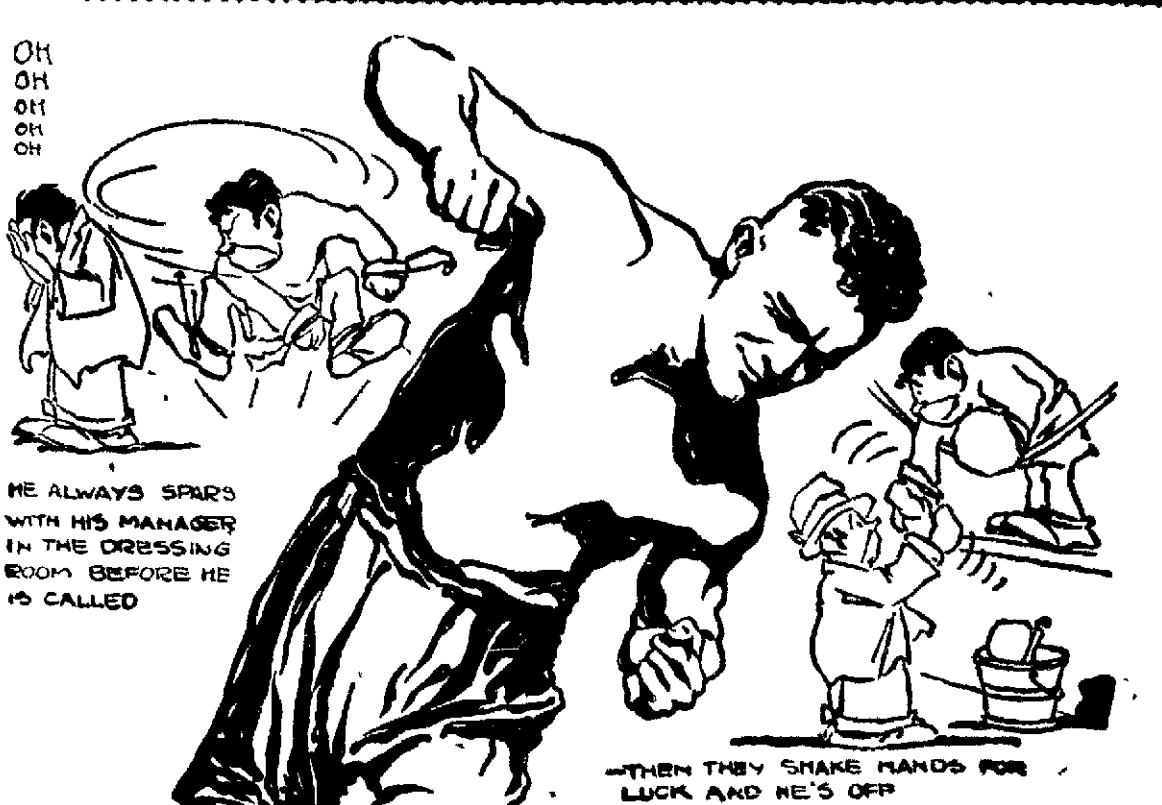

In the dressing room before entering the ring, he always works a little with Eddie Kane as his target. They pick the opponent of the night to pieces, decide on the style of fighting to be used and practice it diligently.

During the time Gibbons is in the ring, before the bell gets 'em away, he pays little or no attention to his opponent. He seldom smiles unless it is to greet some friend at the ringside. He does not talking.

Before leaving his corner to answer the first gong he always shakes hands with Eddie and they wish each other luck. The seconds remove the chair and from that time on do not enter the ring. They're used only to put the chair up and the water bucket in place, always staying on the ground. For Gibbons and Kane decided long ago that fanning between rounds did more harm than good.

Gibbons is one of those likable sort of chaps — the Dempsey type — a great big, smiling, good-hearted boy.

He's matched to meet Carpenter this winter for the light-heavyweight championship, and Tex Rickard, following this scrap, probably will give him a crack at Jack Dempsey's heavy-weight crown.

Ohio Oil was active and strong, selling up 50 points, while Solar Refining sold up 40 points. Sales of Lilly White Oil common were made at 15 up 5 points from the previous sale, while a large block of the preferred changed hands at 9. Buckeye Pipe Line sold up 8 points. Purchase of better than 100 shares of Lima Locomotive preferred moved that stock up 7 points, while the common, which recently went on a 7 per cent yearly dividend basis, was strong through the week with a bid of 74 and none offered under 71. There was quiet accumulation of Lima Sheet Metal Products at 10 a share, and the block of stock which has been hanging over the market is being rapidly absorbed. Interests close to the management continue to buy and rumors were prevalent of a large order which this company has under consideration. Vapo Stove sold at 100. A small block of Stru bers changed hands at 99. Wagner preferred sold at 100 and reports were current that this plant was running to full capacity. The Chalmers Pump & Manufacturing plant is running to a capacity business, while the Sheet Metal Products company has been working a tight force on some rush orders. PRODUCE REVIEW

(By Swift & Co.) A smaller amount of butter has been manufactured during the week than the previous week, although it is in excess of the production of the corresponding week a year ago. The butter market is a little heavier, resulting in higher paying prices throughout the producing territory. Fresh eggs are in light supply and bringing higher prices. There has been a heavy movement of poultry during the past week, with good demand from consuming centers and no particular change in prices.

MARSHAL FIELD REVIEW

Marshall Field & Company, in their weekly review of the wholesale dry goods trade, say: "Current wholesale distribution of dry goods showed a marked improvement over the past several weeks. Orders from salesmen on the road reached a figure considerably above that of last week and much greater than for the same period of last year. There was a greater number of customers in the market than during the same period a year ago. Collections remain satisfactory. Reports from merchants throughout the country point to a decided increase in retail business. BUSINESS LAGGED IN SERIES

Funny Excuses Given By Big Men To Get Free.

(BY R. C. FORBES.)

NEW YORK—(Special.)—In banking circles one hears whispers that sensational revelations are brewing regarding the financing and handling of the Green Star Steamship Line, which has gone bankrupt. Not only will taxpayers have to suffer thru heavy losses of public money extended to the company by the Emergency Fleet Corporation, but it is hinted that the reputations of certain financial gentlemen will also suffer if the whole fact are uncovered. Rumors of financial profligacy are rife. A thorough probe, it is said, will disclose the kind of tactics that were employed during the boom of frenzied financing.

Charles E. Mitchell, President of the National City Bank, has returned from Europe not exuberantly optimistic over conditions there, particularly in Germany. He is convinced that, in self-protection, this country, both thru the government and thru banking and business interests, must do everything humanly possible to help the rest of the world to regain its equilibrium.

Frank A. Vanderlip, who is expected home from Europe next month, will probably feel free to discuss European conditions with a frankness and detachment not possible for powerful financiers engaged in international banking activities. Mr. Vanderlip's utterances will not prove soothing, but are likely to awaken Americans to the urgency of besirring themselves to act before it is too late.

Thank goodness, the baseball games are over. It has been impossible to conduct normal business since the championship contests started. You hear much about excuses given by office-boys anxious to attend ball games, but some of the excuses given by dignified bankers and business leaders have been quite as naive.

One banker had made an engagement with me some time previously, but when he discovered that the day fell upon the opening day of the series, he wanted to wriggle out of it. So he gravely explained that about himself, he had promised his twelve-year-old son that he would take him to the game, and he didn't like to disappoint the eager lad. This reminded me of the standing joke about the grown-ups who take youngsters to the circus—because the youngsters are to get inside the tent.

While the games were in progress the stock ticker couldn't compete with the ticker that described each play as made by the Giants and the Yankees. Now we can return to "normalcy."

Frank A. Seiberling, the builder of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company is preparing to "come back." He has bought one rubber plant at Newcastle and is dickering for another near Akron giving a joint capacity of between five thousand and six thousand tires a day. By and by securities will be offered to the public to raise working capital.

The importance of having permanent working capital, and the danger of depending upon current bank borrowings, were painfully brought home to Mr. Seiberling when the Goodyear got into financial straits. What he says on this subject will interest many.

"I have learned the importance of permanently financing ahead of needs; I have had brought home to me the fallacy of trusting to such temporary finance as bank borrowings."

"In times of stress banks must tighten up to protect their depositors, and, for the industrial concern, there always exists a very acute situation. Industry cannot safely depend upon bank borrowing for working capital."

"Then, too, I have learned the value of strong friendships. I have had many offers of assistance since the turn in my affairs brought about by the depression. Old associates, inside and outside the industry, have offered me their services, their savings. I have found that it pays to give more than wages when you hire a good man to work for you."

Mr. Seiberling predicts that the greatest development in the tire industry from now on, will not lie in any phenomenal increase in output so much as in remarkable progress in improving the quality, the dependability and the life of tires. Mr. Seiberling is quite an inventor, some two-score patents stand to his credit and he hints that he hopes to play a part in greatly improving the durability of tires. Another of his ambitions he expresses in these words:

"Some day I hope to build the most efficient rubber plant in the world."

He also says: "We are on the eve of the startling developments, both chemically and mechanically in the tire business. These developments will be of great value to the public for they will reduce the cost of operating cars on pneumatic tires."

THE TRUTH IN BUSINESS, FINANCE AND INVESTMENTS

AS WE SEE IT

Signs are not lacking that the ultra conservatism that for months has characterized banking policy has begun to relax. The Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers' Association definitely reported to the Los Angeles convention that the credit stress was over. President Drum of the association in his opening address also struck an optimistic note. But even better than mere expression of opinion are the reports that where credit was tightest a more liberal attitude is being assumed by bankers in dealing with their clients.

The tendency to adopt a more courageous attitude probably results from the steady improvement in the underlying economic conditions.

Reports from the Southwest show a steady marketing on a large scale of grain. Kansas has marketed sixty percent of its wheat and neighboring states have done substantially as well. In its review the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank notes a healthy improvement. It states that the export demand for corn has resulted in empty corn cribs and partly empty granaries for the first time for more than a year. In the Minneapolis district where owing to drastic agricultural price declines, the credit strain had become particularly acute, the situation now has eased off sufficiently to allow the Reserve Bank to lower its rediscount rates on commercial paper from 6 1/2 percent to 5 percent. Commercial Bankers state that it recent improvement continues some ten days or two weeks longer general commercial rates will come down from 7 percent to 6 1/2 percent. In like manner Philadelphia Reserve Bank lowered its rate from 5 1/2 percent to 5 percent. Added to these considerations affecting districts where credit tension has been severe are continuously favorable developments in iron and steel, building operations and railroad earnings.

The figures concerning business mortality for the third quarter of the year have recently appeared. In number they are greater than the failures for the second quarter, but the total liabilities involved are less. The showing is the worst in years, as we have predicted it would be. Not since 1915 were there more failures while the liabilities are the largest for decades.

With business as it has been, there is little cause for surprise that failures have been as numerous and as heavy as they have been. Never before did we have such an inflation of prices and such speculative overexpansion. Had we not had a good banking system that prevented an acute money panic the situation would be much worse than it is. The developments in the future depend mainly upon how far high cost material has actually been worked off. Banks are still carrying a good many weak firms, but they are more and more likely to stand from under this burden and let weaker brothers sink or swim.

While the newspapers are out with headlines advising that a strike has been called by the unions, railroad executives are meeting in Chicago to decide on a nation-wide and substantial reduction in freight rates. Groundwork for the move has been laid during the past two months, the plan has been worked out in detail, the executive committee of the association recommends the reduction and leading executives of the country are behind it.

The reductions have been worked out carefully by the executive committee of the association consisting of General W. W. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania Railroad, chairman, and Presidents Elliott and Storey of the Northern Pacific and Santa Fe Lines respectively. These three men one of whom at first opposed the idea, have been "sold" on the proposal and advocate its adoption.

This is the first time in the history of American Railroading that the transportation agencies of the country, acting virtually as a unit will petition the Government to allow them to lower rates instead of increase them.

About a year ago, Henry Ford made the first cut in the price of Ford cars. It will be remembered that every other automobile manufacturer said it was impossible to cut the price, but the cuts came. A few months ago Henry Ford petitioned for a decrease in the tariffs on his recently acquired road the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton, which was denied not so long ago by the Commission. Almost every railroad official thought that Henry Ford was making a mistake. It will be recalled that we said in this column at that time that Henry had given them something to think about. It seems that he did.

Out of 100,000 pounds Sterling City of Pelotas, State of Rio Grande do Sul, United States of Brazil bonds, which were brought over from London, by the syndicate of which we were members, there remains only 15,000 pounds sterling unsold at this writing. These bonds have been purchased by the most conservative investors, and this is probably the last opportunity you will have to make a purchase of this security.

The House Tax, which is the real estate tax of Pelotas is more than sufficient to care for the service of this loan. It is much better secured than a straight government bond, because in the case of governments the income is largely from customs receipts, which fluctuate widely due to trade conditions. Besides being secured by the House Tax these bonds are also a direct obligation of the City, and the State of Rio Grande do Sul has endorsed each bond.

The yield is 8.10 percent straight income; 8.85 percent to average maturity, there is a 34 percent possible increase in income, average yield and capital; and 120 percent possible profit upon redemption at par and at the normal rate of $4.866 per pound.

These bonds were originally sold in London in 1911 at 95 1/2 percent then equal to $930 for a 200 pound bond.

The price while they last is, subject to exchange fluctuations, $470 flat including 3 months interest per 200 pounds.

Mr. W. H. Wagner, President of the Wagner Manufacturing Company reports that the Company is doing more business today than they were doing this time a year ago. More than 250 employees are on the payroll, and orders in hand would fill the plant, and orders in hand would fill the plant, and orders in hand would fill the plant.

Last week we called your attention to a few railroad bonds, which we feel are in line for advance. We again call your attention to two bonds, which are high grade, safe as to principal, yield a fair return, and which as money rates decrease should advance in price.

Great Northern Railway Company 4 1/2% First and Refunding Mortgage Gold Bonds, Outstanding $35,668,000, dated May 1st, 1911, and due July 1st, 1961. Redeemable only as a whole at 105 and interest at 4 1/2%.
